

MEREDITH STERN

VISITING ARTIST

Printmaking Workshop

March 27, 3:30-6pm

302 Woldenberg Art Center

Bio: Artist Meredith Stern obtained a BFA in Ceramics at Tulane University in 1998. In 1999 she co-founded a collectively run living and art space in New Orleans in a warehouse they called Nowe Miasto. For over a decade, the space was home to dozens of people and housed printmaking and zine making workshops and live music events. In 2005 she moved to Providence, Rhode Island where she currently resides. She has developed a multifaceted art practice that includes printmaking, ceramics, zine making, and gardening. In 2007 she was a founding member of The Justseeds Artists' Cooperative, a printmaking group that has 40 members based around the US, Canada, and Mexico.

Workshop: Meredith will give a presentation of socially engaged artists, contemporary collage art, and her art practice. Students will then create a poster using cut and paste method of collage.

Materials Students Should Bring:

Each student should bring proof prints, magazines they are willing to cut up, and/or photocopy papers with images or words/slogans they are drawn to. Each student should bring 1-2 sturdy pieces of paper to glue onto. The sturdy paper can be any medium or heavy weight paper; for example cardstock, Rives BFK, Stonehenge, etc.
