Recital Rules and Guidelines:

At the beginning of the junior recital semester or senior recital year, voice recitalists will craft and prepare a recital proposal according to the parameters set by his/her professor.

The semester before your recital, book your recital date with Michael Batt. You must also clear the dates with your voice professor and recital pianist. Recitals should be Monday through Thursday, not on Friday, Saturday, or Sunday. The earlier the better *4PM, 5PM and 6PM recitals are preferred. Please do not book your recital the night before a holiday or designated break. All recitals must be completed by the last day of classes. Once your recital date has been approved, please email the date, time and location to Professor Pfrimmer for the master list.

The Recital Hearing must take place no less than 30 days prior to recital date. Submit ALL music to your pianist no less than two weeks prior to the hearing. At the hearing, submit recital details on the form (* see attached), recital proposal, and recital program draft using the Music Department's template. Proposals must include any scripted dialogue, and any plans for multi-media or audio-visual usage, describing how these elements will be integrated and how they will enhance the program. Scripted dialogue should be kept to a minimum and should be used to enhance the program and have approval of the hearing committee. Locations anywhere other than Dixon Hall or the Dixon Annex Recital Hall must be justified. Do refrain from sentimental, self-indulgent, gratuitous story telling and extended thank you speeches.

The Recital Run Through must take place two weeks prior to the recital date. The run through must include any scripted dialogue.

The Recital Poster must be approved by your voice teacher and submitted to Arynne Fannin two weeks prior to the recital date.

Recital Dress Rehearsal must take place 2-7 days prior to the recital date.

***Guest artists must be available for recital hearing and dress rehearsal. There will be no exceptions.

***Guest artists may appear on UP TO TWO pieces of the program or one larger extended work.

Water on stage – singers should plan to leave the stage at planned points in the program to drink water offstage. There should be no water on stage unless it is somehow integrated into a song concept.

Junior Recitals students should prepare a recital in traditional recital format. It is recommended that junior students partner with another music student to give a combined (60 minute) program.

Senior Musical Theatre Students will also be required to do a Book Jury that will display the following:

2 Ballads - Contrasting Styles

2 Uptempo - Contrasting Styles

1 Contemporary Narrative

1 Sondheim

1 Disney or Industrial Song

1 Novelty Song

4 CCM (4 different styles)

*All selections should have 16 & 32 Bar cuts

The Book Jury will happen, as scheduled, during the last two weeks of the semester before the senior recital.

BFA Performance and BFA Musical Theatre students who study abroad must make arrangements to complete recital requirements. Take care of this BEFORE you go abroad.
